STUDER-RODAWAY

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Studer on Wednesday afternoon of last week, was the scene of a very pretty lawn wedding, when their only son, Mr. Cecil A. B. Studer, was united in marriage to Miss Emily Irene Rodaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodaway, of Seattle, Wash., Rev. W. J. McNutt officiating. Weather conditions were ideal for an outdoor wedding. A marquee had been erected for the occasion on the spacious lawn, and the grounds were gaily decorated with flags and bunting. The little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Clarke acted as flower girl and strewed the path of the bride from the house to the lawn with wild roses. An orchestra, consisting of Miss Mae Studer, 'celist; Miss E. Liesemer, pianist, and Mr. A. Liesemer, ukelele, furnished the music. Miss Rodaway was given away by her mother. She was becomingly attired in an ensemble suit of tan charmeuse with trimmings of lace to match, and wore a cloche hat to contrast in the new cocoa shades. She carried a lovely bouquet of Ophelia roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn, the guests numbering over one hundred. Mrs. J. L. Clarke was matron of ceremonies. Mrs. J. E. Hugert poured tea, while Mrs. G. M. Reid, of Calgary, cut the ices. The members of the Business Girls' Club, of which the bride was a member, assisted in serving.

The bride and bridegroom were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts. The young couple left on the afternoon train going south and on their return from their honeymoon will reside in Didsbury.

Those present during the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Studer, Mrs. McNutt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Durrer, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Liesemer, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Liesemer, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. ## Canada's Tied-Up Resources

(Second Article)

Apart from its agricultural lands, the material wealth of Canada is to be found in its natural resources—forests, fisheries and minerals. Through their development for use at home and abroad Canada can obtain much-needed population, traffic for its railways, and financial strength to carry and ultimately discharge the huge national debt of the Dominion.

Why is it, therefore, that in respect to its great mineral wealth so little has been done to develop these resources and thus provide for use by Canadian industries of many of those raw materials, or semi-manufactured products, which at the present time are imported in huge quantities?

The answer cannot be given in a few words, but requires some explanation. In years gone by, protected by a high Customs tariff, Canadian manufacturers had a glorious opportunity to build up their industries in a way where they would have been largely independent of foreign supplies. They neglected their opportunity. Instead of making use of the protection afforded them to develop the coal, iron, copper and other mineral deposits of their own Dominion, they continued to largely import these raw materials, and merely added the amount of the tariff to their selling price and pocketed it as additional profits.

During this period of Canada's history these mineral resources could have been purchased and developed at a fraction of present-day costs. But shortsightedly the manufacturers allowed the opportunity to go unheeded. Others, however, with greater vision began to bestir themselves and quietly, without any flourish of trumpets, United States capitalists and manufacturers have for years past been buying control of the natural resources of Canada.

The policy of United States capitalists and manufacturers has been a far-sighted one, aimed at the accomplishment of two main things. They have secured ownership and control of vital resources in Canada, not with the object of proceeding with their immediate development for use, but with the deliberate intention of tying them up and preventing present development. To what end was such a policy adopted?

In the first place, so long as Canadian manufacturers were content to go on buying supplies from the United States which they could have obtained for themselves through development of resources at home, just so long were these United States interests securing a very profitable business. Furthermore, as long as Canada's resources remained undeveloped, just so long were those supplies kept from entering into competition with similar supplies from the United States and those interested in the United States enabled to thereby maintain prices and control of trade which full development of Canada's resources would have threatened. In other words, the United States not only retained its best foreign customer, but non-development in Canada enabled United States interests to keep prices up at home and abroad.

But there was another consideration which had great weight with United States investors in their purchase of Canada's undeveloped resources. They foresaw that, with the rapid increase in the population of their country, the day was coming when their own natural resources would become exhausted, or at least prove inadequate to meet their own needs. Taking time by the forelock they therefore have been buying up Canada's undeveloped resources and holding them in an undeveloped state in reserve against the day when they will be urgently required and be multiplied many times in value.

Evidence of the truth of these statements can be found on every hand. Rich deposits of copper are known to exist in Canada but are not being developed. They have passed under United States control. Let an oil well be discovered in Western Canada, as they have been, and they are "capped" and only the surplus overflow which would otherwise be wasted is used while the main flow is held in reserve and trainloads of crude oil from the United States continue to feed refineries in this country. Thus is employment provided in the United States and means of employment checked in Canada; thus is traffic provided for United States railways while Canadian railways are operated at a deficit; thus is Canadian money steadily diverted to the United States when every dollar is needed at home to carry the heavy burden of our war debt.

On the other hand, enormous development is taking place in the pulp and paper industry of Canada. It is growing by leaps and bounds and is being developed for the most part with foreign capital. Why? Because of the depletion of United States pulp resources and the demand for paper across the line. There is more than one paper mill in Canada, using Canadian water power and Canadian logs, owned entirely by United States interests and whose whole output goes to the United States, while Canadians who have sought to purchase paper have been refused so much as a pound.

With some of the most extensive coal areas in the world, the mining of coal in Canada is still in its infancy while Canadians go on importing scores of millions of dollars' worth of coal every year from the United States. Canadian miners are, for the most part, members of a United States Union. Alberta miners are paid as high wages as anywhere on the continent, yet are constantly on strike for long periods and in receipt of "strike pay" from across the line, while United States miners are busy supplying the Canadian market.

Such is the situation in Canada today. What is the use of Parliament spending its time discussing ways and means of promoting immigration, or of how to stop the exodus of people to the United States, or of considering such futile policies as still higher tariff protection in order to stimulate industry and provide employment, when the basic resources of the Dominion through the development of which employment could be provided, not only for the present population, but millions more, are hopelessly tied up and their development prevented as a matter of deliberate policy?

Fish Weighed Five Tons

A skate caught recently weighed 250 lbs., which is 50 lb. more than the naturalists of a century ago thought it ever attained. But the devil fish of the West Indian seas, which, like the common skate, is a ray and resembles it in structure and appearance, is often much larger. One caught in 1823 weighed nearly five tons. In a dramatic account of its capture we read that "three pairs of oxen, one horse and 22 men all pulling together could not convey it far."

CONDEMNS THE CANCELLATION OF RAIL AGREEMENT

Ottawa.—During the debate on the freight rates bill in the House of Commons, Hon. E. J. McMurray, Liberal, Winnipeg North, condemned cancellation of the Crow agreement. The board of railway commissioners, he said, had acted with "undue and indecent haste in getting aside the Magna Charta of Western Canada's transportation rights." Since 1897 the agreement had been the policy of Liberal and Conservative Governments alike. The railway commission should have hesitated to remove it. Mr. McMurray was dissatisfied with the attitude of the government to the whole question. Their present bill was a "poor compromise."

Mr. McMurray urged that Western Canada should have at least one more representative on the railway board. If possible, each western province should have a representative. He also thought Western Canada should have another judge on the supreme court bench.

Mr. McMurray could not see why the Canadian National Railway, with its easier grade and lower operating cost in the mountains, could not reduce rates to the coast, and compel the C.P.R. to reduce also.

He thought that Western Canada was being made to pay whenever the railways found they needed more money. The roads could not increase rates in Eastern Canada because of water competition.

Mr. McMurray said the legislation "looks patched up, and a compromise." It was unfair to British Columbia, and consequently unfair to a large section of the prairie west.

Closer Relations With West Indies

Danger of Islands Becoming Part of the United States

Ottawa.—Expressing the hope that the conference here between the Canadian Government and delegates from the various British possessions in the West Indies may result in a closer knitting together of relationships between Canada and the Indies, members of the delegation from Jamaica, in an interview, stated that at present most of the tourist traffic and trade reaching Jamaica is from the United States, and, Jamaicans being Britishers, desire a more intimate relation with Canada and other states of the Empire.

The increasing influence of the United States in both the export and import trade of the West Indies is constantly brought to the attention of the Islanders, the delegates state, and unless Canada and Great Britain wake up to the importance of this trade, and the necessity of encouraging closer relations between the different parts of the Empire, there is grave danger of these islands some day becoming associated, politically, as well as commercially, with the United States.

Abolish Famous Prison

Russian Bastion on Banks of Frozen White Sea to be Closed

Moscow.—The Solovetsky monastery, a desolate forbidding prison camp on Solovetsky Island, in the frozen White Sea, which has been the terror of political offenders under the Soviet regime, will soon become but an echo of the past.

On recommendation of the state political police, the council of people's commissars has decided to abolish the prison.

Famine Threatens Bessarabia

Bucharest.—The entire province or Bessarabia, which Rumania recovered from Russia as a result of the war, is threatened with famine because of last year's crop failure. The national bank has opened a special credit of $40,000,000 for sending provisions to the province.

Black Rust in Dakota

Premier Expresses Opinion On the Flag Question

Ottawa.—No action will be taken respecting a Canadian flag without the "full sanction of Parliament," said Premier King in the house in answer to questions as to the government's intentions regarding a Canadian flag. "Personally," said Mr. King, "I would be proud and happy to have the Union Jack represent Canada as a national flag, and would not lend any support to any flag not having the union as its most distinctive feature."

Boundary Line Settled

Canada Gets 2½ Acres of Water in Lake of the Woods

Minneapolis.—By giving Canada two and a half acres of water, the United States has formally settled an argument which has covered 122 years of treaties, talks and triangulations.

The water will not be transferred until maps now being engraved are completed. But when 38 maps of the boundary from the northwest angle of Lake of the Woods to Lake Superior are issued some time next year, the water will become officially "Canadian," and Minnesota citizens will know at last how far north the state's boundary goes.

Under the treaty between the United States and Canada, which has been approved by the senate, about two and one-half acres of American waters in Lake of the Woods will be transferred to Canadian territory. This does not involve any transfer of land.

Crops Ruined By Floods

Three Hundred Acres Destroyed in Districts in Manitoba

Winnipeg.—Seventy-five per cent. of the crops in the Whitemouth and Birch River districts have been completely ruined by floods according to a report submitted by C. S. Prodan to the Provincial Government. Mr. Prodan had charge of relief operations in the inundated area.

More than 300 acres were flooded, causing considerable property damage and loss of stock. While Mr. Prodan indicated that floods were an annual occurrence in these districts, the situation was the worst experienced in the history of the settlement. Many of the families who are entirely dependent upon their crops for a livelihood, have been reduced to destitution. Twenty-seven families are now being cared for by the provisional relief bureau.

Amendment to Pensions Bill

Ottawa.—The special committee of the senate considering the Pensions Bill, approved an amendment introduced by Senator Loughheed, declaring that the board of pensions commissioners, represented by one or more commissioners, "may, in its discretion, hold sittings in any part of Canada, for the purpose of hearing evidence or complaints in respect of pensions."

McMillan Leaves For Arctic

Has Started His Ninth Voyage Into Frozen North

Boston.—The Arctic expedition of Lieut. Commander Donald B. MacMillan sailed from the navy yard at Charlestown, June 17, in the steamer Peary, bound for Wiscasset, Maine. From Wiscasset the Peary and the schooner Bowdoin will sail on MacMillan's ninth voyage into the north.

The big guns on the navy craft anchored in the bay thundered farewell as the little steamer slipped away on the first leg of the trip beyond the Arctic Circle. A navy band on the pier played, "Auld Lang Syne" as the crowd which had gathered in the navy yard cheered lustily. The harbor echoed with the shrieks of marine whistles of nearby craft in the parting tribute.

Overhead a dozen hydro aeroplanes circled.

Belgian Cabinet

Brussels.—After having been ten weeks without a cabinet, Belgium now finds itself possessed of a duly constituted ministry. It is headed by Viscount Pouillet. The general council of the Socialist party, by a vote of 10 to 26, gave its approval and adherence to the new regime.

The personnel of the cabinet is made up of Socialists, Liberals and Catholics.

Propose Canadian Exhibition Train

Ottawa.—Senator Beaubien drew the attention of the senate to the expediency of sending a Canadian exhibition train through Great Britain and asked what action the government proposed to take in this matter.

Senator Dandurand favored the proposal and said he would recommend it to the cabinet.

A new element called hafnium, recently discovered by Danish scientists, may be used in radio tubes.

Would Have Unanimous Consent Of Provinces

Ottawa.—The senate unanimously adopted the following motion by Senator Turgeon: "That, in the opinion of the senate, it is inexpedient that any change take place in the constitution of Canada, as established by the British North America Act and thereto, as set forth in the speech from the throne, at the opening of the present session of parliament, without the unanimous consent of the provinces affected by such a change, to be expressed by the legislatures of the respective provinces."

Saskatoon, Sask.—Award of the Geneva scholarship, worth $550, for attendance at a series of lectures on the League of Nations, and international affairs generally at Geneva, Switzerland, during July and August, has been announced by Professor Frank H. Underhill, of the University of Saskatchewan.

It has been decided to split the scholarship in two, giving $275 each to A. C. Bunce (Agro) and R. Mainwaring (Emmanuel), two students at the university who are of English birth and who happen to be visiting their parents in England at the present time.

The scholarships, of which it is understood one is given to each Canadian university this year, are donated by the Geneva Federation, a students' organization.

British Columbia Fruit Crop

Will Equal Last Year's Says President Associated Growers

Vernon, B.C.—J. Chambers, president of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, stated that the fruit crop throughout the entire district from Vernon to Keremeos, would probably equal last year's figures. He estimated the season's output at approximately 2,225,000 packages, which were the figures for last year, or in other words a $3,500,000 crop.

These figures cover, he said, that portion of the output handled through the organization which represents 75 per cent. of the growers of the valley.

NEW RECORD IN SIGNING UP ARMS PACT AT GENEVA

Geneva.—Peace and good-will among nations was the dominate note when the international conference on the control of traffic in arms and munitions ended with 18 countries emphasizing their desire for international co-operation by signing the arms traffic convention, and 27 subscribing to the protocol outlawing the use of bacteria and poison gas in war-time.

This is a new record for Geneva. Doubtless many more states will sign after the delegates have advised their home governments.

Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and the United States were the first to sign the arms traffic convention. All the great powers except France signed the poison gas protocol, but it was officially announced that France would sign later, as M. Bonecour, himself, desires the honor of affixing his signature in behalf of France when he returns to Geneva.

Germany made good her sole conference declaration that she was ready to subscribe to any international agreement prohibiting gas, being one of the first signatories.

Canada, whose representative, Dr. Walter Riddell, had actively supported the protocol, Nicaragua and Uruguay then signed.

The arms convention will come into force as soon as it is ratified by any 14 states. The gas protocol becomes operative for each signatory as soon as that country deposits its ratification, though a ratifying power will be bound only towards those who have also ratified the treaty.

Question of Sea Rates

No Immediate Action to be Taken By Government

Ottawa.—The question of the Petersen contract and regulation of ocean rates was brought up in the House of Commons on a question by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader.

"I want to ask the government if this session is to close," stated Mr. Meighen, "without any action being taken, or recommendation to parliament, in respect to what was called in the speech from the throne 'transportation by sea.'"

"We have a report from what should be known as the Petersen committee, but it has lain dormant for some time. Does the government propose to introduce any legislation or ask for any authority from parliament arising from that report, or is this session to end with nothing done?"

Premier Mackenzie King replied that the circumstances under which the government had considered it inadvisable to proceed with the discussion of the report of the committee must be known to the members of the house.

"In view of the sad death of Sir William Petersen," he stated, "we have not thought that it was fitting to bring into this house, at this time, the discussion of his name in matters relating to his projects. The government, however, intends very carefully to consider the recommendations contained in the report for such action as may be deemed best. I do not think that it will be advisable to contemplate immediate legislation."

Subscription: $2.00 per year
U.S. Points: $2.50 per yearWORLD LOOKS TO CANADA FOR ENORMOUS WHEAT CROP IN 1925

Canada must break all past records for the production of wheat in 1925 if the world's supply of wheat for the crop year 1925-1926 is to be sufficient to meet the demand.

India is the first country in the Northern Hemisphere to harvest, and her wheat crop is 42 million bushels short. The United States wheat crop has not come through the winter in good shape, and the official estimate for this year is 145 million bushels less than a year ago, and so Europe must import more wheat than last year. The acreage and condition of the winter wheat crop of the Northern Hemisphere is known and from past experiences the outcome of the winter wheat harvest can be closely figured.

If Australia and Argentina harvest an aggregate of 370 million bushels, as they did last year, they will have bettered their average considerably. They are not likely to do so, as they are not apt to have three big crops in succession. So the responsibility is passed up to the spring wheat countries; Canada and the Northern United States. The spring wheat acreage in the U.S.A. is also a known quantity—20,500,000 acres—and an average crop would produce 25 million bushels less than a year ago. So that India and the United States show a total of 212 million bushels less than 1924.

How is this immense shortage to be made up? The answer lies with Canada's prairie provinces. To provide the world with reasonably priced wheat Canada must grow and harvest 500 million bushels in 1925. Can Canada deliver the goods? That is the question that wheat men the world over are asking. These figures are based on the law of averages. The weight of experience is against the supply of wheat and points to a tight situation which only extremely favorable weather can overcome.

A partial crop failure in Western Canada would be tragic.

A cheering announcement for Canadian wheat growers is made by a well informed market correspondent of the London Morning Post. Analyzing the recent history of the British grain trade, he declares that the news points more and more to the conclusion that the world is ceasing to produce corn at prices incompatible with civilized conditions and that, among the producers, the low prices of 1923 and 1924 are seen to be abnormalities and not likely to recur.

A young girl always benefits if she has something alive to own such as poultry or a calf. In feeding and caring for whatever she owns it will make a better schoolgirl of her, a better artist, a better teacher, a better housekeeper, a better mother. She will be no less a lady because she looked after and cared for and fed some kind of farm animal when she was a little girl in a gingham dress and her hair down her back in braids or curls. But whatever she raises let her keep the money when it is sold. That encourages thrift, makes work a pleasure and gives joy in ownership. Learning to do by doing is the best kind of education—and the beauty of it is that it educates for the responsibilities of life. Such is life. Boys' and girls' clubs are promoting this idea of ownership, but the same idea can be carried out even if there is no club in the community. Help your girl to find herself.

Malacosoma Lustraria, better known as the tent caterpillar, has been thwarted in what promised to be a most productive season in the northern part of the province, according to reports emanating from Edmonton. Entomologists declare that the early warmth and luxuriant foliage proved a boon to the early hatching and swarms of these fuzzy creatures were congregating on the poplar trees in the northern part of Alberta and regaling themselves on the succulent and tender young leaves.

Their happiness has been short-lived, however, as the cold and wet weather of the last week has played havoc with their constitutions and they are hanging in thousands of lifeless masses from the trees with only the most sturdy surviving.

WEDDING.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Finley Kerr, of Elkton, Alta., on Tuesday, June 16th, between Mr. Fair and Miss Kerr. The ceremony was performed by Rev. V. J. McNutt in the presence of a number of friends and relatives.

The young couple will make their home at Elkton.

WEDDING

Bernard—Wolford—A quiet wedding was solemnized at Didsbury on June 15th, at the parsonage, when Mrs. Jean Wolford and Mr. Daniel Bernard were united in holy matrimony. The Rev. H. E. Ruppel, of the United Church, officiated.

TO HAVE EXECUTIVE POST

Mr. J. W. Hamilton, according to dispatches from well informed circles in Montreal, is to be general manager for the West when the absorption of the Union Bank of Canada by the Royal Bank of Canada has been completed. Mr. Hamilton has been general-manager of the Union Bank for approximately two years and is held in very high regard both in the West and East. His banking experience includes some years in London, England. His appointment to the chief executive position in the West for the greatly enlarged Royal Bank will be received with great gratification by all westerners.

DIDSBURY LOSES TO INNISFAIL

(The Province)

On the Innisfail diamond on Monday night Didsbury dropped a game to the locals 6-10. The game started with Freeman in the box for Innisfail and Joe Thompson catching, the visitors' battery being Stoffer in the box and Clemmens behind the bat.

The Didsburyites knew Freeman too well, he having played with them for years, so it was necessary to pull the pitcher at the end of the second innings, after five runs had been marked up against Innisfail. Thompson and Denny allowed the visitors one run in eight frames, while the locals managed to bring in ten runs. Innisfail's battery got fine support, the main feature of which was Mark's left out-field hit.

Stoffer pitched great ball for Didsbury and The Province is sorry to see this team lose such a twirler (Stoffer has gone to Banff). This is luck which a nine like the Didsbury boys do not deserve.

Two handsome prizes of a silver and bronze medal are being offered by the Royal Bank in connection with Didsbury's fair on August 4 and 5. The silver medal will go to the boy or girl winner in the class for the best dairy type heifer calf, and the bronze medal to boy or girl winner of the best general purpose type calf. The medals are richly chased on the one side with agricultural scenes and the reverse with the name of the Royal Bank together with a space left blank for the engraving of the winner's name.

Henry Ford's Record

Twenty-five years ago, Henry Ford was an unknown mechanic experimenting in a back shed with a contrivance to abolish the horse on the highway. In the succeeding quarter of a century he has to date made this record:

First—Taken leadership in motor transportation with a total production of nearly 11,000,000 cars, giving the world the cheapest machinery per horsepower and the cheapest transportation machinery ever known.

Second—Entered the high class motor field, taking up the work of the Lelands and steadily perfecting the Lincoln car.

Third—To further displace the horse, he has entered the farm tractor field on the same principles as with the Ford motor car—the largest maker of farm tractors, with more than half the world output.

Fourth—He has entered the railroad field, re-organizing a bankrupt road of 480 miles and has put it on a paying basis and begun its electrification.

Fifth—He has entered the coal mining industry, invested ten millions in the Pond Creek Coal Mines, producing the highest grade bituminous coal.

Sixth—He has opened lumber camps in Michigan and is economically cutting his own timber on an improved scientific basis when one lumberman now produces five times as much as before. Underbrush is cleared up, by-products utilized—forest fires eliminated and re-forestation follows cutting.

Seventh—He is mining and shipping ore from his own iron mines.

Eighth—He has entered the iron and steel business with big blast furnaces on the River Rouge, under all the latest scientific improvements for melting ore and producing iron and steel and utilizing by-products.

Ninth—He has entered the shipping business with his own vessels that take his products to various United States ports and to South America and Europe.

These industries he has entered, not for the purpose of profit, but for the purpose of insuring a steady supply and keeping down costs.

Tenth—He is revolutionizing farming, not only by the motor and the tractor and scientific research, but the pioneering in the way of turning released farm labor in the unproductive season over to small factory units operated by developed electric power from harnessed home streams.

Eleventh—He is growing flax on a large scale, aiming to supplant the use of cotton in automobile linings and tires.

Twelfth—He has built for Detroit one of the largest modern hospitals in the world, covering an area of sixteen city blocks and with an engineering genius and an operating plant that has astonished the medical profession.

Thirteenth—He is putting millions into the wayside inns to teach history to the youth of our land by practical illustration: the old family kitchen restored and set up in conjunction with the new family fireside enjoying the conveniences of electric light, heat and power developed from formerly unused natural resources.

Fourteenth—He has entered the field of publishing and editing and the moulding of opinion, with a paper that has now 750,000 circulation, does not accept advertising and seeks to present the neglected truth.

Here is a record of fourteen points of achievement that leaves Henry Ford still active in the prime of physical and mental vigor at sixty years of age, and seeking new fields of conquest in the domain of human endeavor—not for personal glory or profit, but for the fellowship of human service.

He has still many scientific surveys, investigations and experiments under way, and it is difficult now to set any limits to his activities and achievements.

A Romance of the Spanish Main CAPTAIN BLOOD by RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyright, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan
in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

CHAPTER XXIV. Cartagena

Having crossed the Caribbean in the teeth of contrary winds, it was not until the early days of April that the French fleet hove in sight of Cartagena, and M. Rivarol summoned a council aboard his flagship to determine the method of assault.

"It is of importance, messieurs," he told them, "that we take the city by surprise, not only before it can put itself into a state of defense; but before it can remove its treasures inland. I propose to land a force sufficient to achieve this to the north of the city to-night after dark."

He was heard respectfully and approvingly by his officers, scornfully by Captain Blood. Blood was the only one amongst them who knew exactly what lay ahead. Two years ago he had himself considered a raid upon the place, and he had actually made a survey of it. The Baron's proposal was one to be expected from a commander whose knowledge of Cartagena was only such as might be derived from maps.

Geographically and strategically considered, it is a curious place. It stands almost four-square, screened east and north by hills, and it may be said to face south upon the inner of two harbors by which it is normally approached. The entrance to the outer harbor, which is in reality a lagoon some three miles across, lies through a neck known as the Boca Chica—or Little Mouth—and defended by a fort. A long strip of densely wooded land to westward acts here as a natural breakwater, and as the inner harbor is approached, another strip of land thrusts across at right angles from the first, towards the mainland on the east. Just short of this it ceases, leaving a deep but very narrow channel, a veritable gateway, into the secure and sheltered inner harbor. Another fort defends this second passage. East and north of Cartagena lies the mainland, which may be left out of account. But to the west and northwest this city, so well guarded on every other side, lies directly open to the sea. It stands back beyond a half-mile of beach, and besides this and the stout walls which fortify it, would appear to have no other defenses.

It remained for Captain Blood to explain the difficulties when M. de Rivarol informed him that the honor of opening the assault in the manner which he described was to be accorded to the buccaneers.

Captain Blood smiled sardonically at the honor reserved for his men. It was precisely what he would have expected. For the buccaneers the danger; for M. de Rivarol the honor, glory and profit of the enterprise.

"It is an honor which I must decline," said he quite coldly. Wolverstone grunted approval and Hagthorpe and Yberville nodded. "I will not lead my men into fruitless danger."

"Look you, M. le Capitaine, since you are afraid to undertake this thing, I will myself undertake it," M. de Rivarol declared. "If I do so, I shall have proved you wrong, and I shall have a word to say to you to-morrow which you may not like. I am being very generous with you, sir. You have leave to go."

It was sheer obstinacy and empty pride that drove him, and he received the lesson he deserved. Close upon fifty lives were lost in the adventure, together with half-a-dozen boats stored with ammunition and light guns. The Baron went back to his flagship an infuriated, but by no means a wiser man.

A lucky shot from the buccaneers had found the powder magazine

He was awakened at dawn by the rolling thunder of guns. Emerging upon the poop in nightcap and slippers, he beheld a sight that increased his unreasonable and unreasoning fury. The four buccaneer ships under canvas were half a mile off the Boca Chica and little more than half a mile from the remainder of the fleet, and from their flanks flame and smoke were belching each time they swung broadside to the great fort that guarded that narrow entrance. The fort, although returning the fire vigorously and viciously, was suffering badly. Yet for all their manoeuvring the buccaneers were not escaping punishment. The starboard gunwale of the Atropos had been hammered into splinters, and a shot had caught her astern in the coach. The Elizabeth was badly battered about the fore-castle, and the Arabella's mainmast had been shot away, whilst towards the end of that engagement the Lachesis came reeling out of the fight with a shattered rudder, steering herself by sweeps. There was a terrific explosion; half the fort went up in fragments. A lucky shot from the buccaneers had found the powder magazine.

It may have been a couple of hours later when Captain Blood, as spruce and cool as if he had just come from a levee, stepped upon the quarter-deck of the Victorieuse, to confront M. de Rivarol, still in bedgown and nightcap.

"I have to report, M. le Baron, that we are in possession of the fort on Boca Chica. The standard of France is flying from what remains of its tower, and the way into the outer harbour is open to your fleet."

"You behold there the scene of our coming action. It is spread before you like a map."

Blood pointed out the fort at the mouth of the inner harbour and offered a plan of certain victory with Cartagena's gold insured the invaders.

At noon on the morrow, shorn of defences and threatened with bombardment, Cartagena sent offers of surrender to M. de Rivarol. The plunder was enormous. In the course of four days over a hundred mules laden with gold went out of the city and down to the boats waiting at the beach to convey the treasure aboard the ships.

CHAPTER XXV.

The Honour of M. de Rivarol

During the capitulation and for some time after, Captain Blood and the greater portion of his buccaneers had been at their post on the heights of Nuestra Señora de la Pouppe, utterly in ignorance of what was taking place. Resentment smouldered amongst his men for a while, to flame out violently at the end of that week in Cartagena. It was only by undertaking to voice their grievance to the Baron that their captain was able for the moment to pacify them. That done, he went at once in quest of M. de Rivarol.

"M. le Baron, I must speak frankly; and you must suffer it. My men are on the point of mutiny. They demand to know when this sharing of the spoil is to take place, and when they are to receive the fifth for which their articles provide. The men know that it exceeds the enormous total of forty millions. They insist that the treasure itself be produced and weighed in their presence. I warn you that unless you yield to a demand that I consider just and therefore uphold, you may look for trouble, and it would not surprise me if you never leave Cartagena at all, nor convey a single gold piece home to France."

"Am I to understand that you are threatening me?"

"You do not know the ways of buccaneers. If you persist, Cartagena will be drenched in blood, and whatever the outcome the King of France will not have been well served."

The end of it all was that M. de Rivarol gave a promise at once to make the necessary preparations, and if Captain Blood and his officers would wait upon him on board the Victorieuse to-morrow morning, the treasure should be produced, weighed in their presence and their fifth share surrendered there and then into their own keeping.

Among the buccaneers that night there was hilarity over the sudden abatement of M. de Rivarol's monstrous pride. But when the next dawn broke over Cartagena, they had the explanation of it. The only ships to be seen in the harbour were the Arabella and the Elizabeth riding at anchor and the Atropos and the Lachesis careened on the beach for repair of the damage sustained in the bombardment. The French ships were gone. Blood was reduced to despair. If he followed now, Heaven knew what would happen to the town. Unable to reach a decision, his own men and Hagthorpe's took the matter off his hands, eager to give chase to Rivarol.

It is now estimated that over 7,200 acres of sugar beets have been signed up for the new beet sugar factory at Raymond. Six thousand acres was the figure set by the Sugar Beet Company, when they first entered into negotiations with the farmers.

Canada At the Norse Centennial

Elaborate Exhibit of Canadian Government Attracted Much Attention

During the first week in June, Canada and the United States joined in honor of the Scandinavian settlers on the American continent by celebration of the centennial of the arrival of the first Norwegian settlers. The Centennial Exposition was designed to pay acknowledgment to the great contribution which those early Norse settlers, their successors and fellow countrymen have made to the advancement of every phase of life in Canada and in the United States.

Canada has a very natural interest in this celebration on account of the large number of Scandinavians who live in Canada and the prominent part they have taken in the development of the country. It was appropriate that, responding to the invitation to send an official representative of Canada, the Canadian Government selected Hon. Thomas H. Johnson, K.C., of Winnipeg, formerly attorney-general of Manitoba. Mr. Johnson is himself a native Scandinavian, having been born in Iceland, who came to Canada with his parents when nine years old. In addressing an immense audience, Mr. Johnson referred to the happy relations which have existed between the United States and Canada for the past generation, and alluded to the influence these countries have exerted in the direction of world peace. He paid a tribute to the value of the Scandinavian people as settlers and nation builders.

One of the chief features of interest at the centennial was the elaborate exhibit put up by the Canadian Government. This exhibit, besides showing the principal resources and products of Canada, represented by means of a huge panel done in Canadian grains and grasses, incidents in connection with the history of the Norse settlers in North America. One of the representations was that of Lief Ericson, the indomitable Norseman, about to land from his Viking ship on the shores of what is now known as Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, in the year 1001 A.D., 491 years before the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus. The exhibit was the largest and finest which the Canadian Government has undertaken in the United States outside of the big international exhibitions, and was the occasion of much enthusiasm and favorable comment.

Many other prominent Canadians, including Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba, took part in the ceremonies. The effect of Canada's co-operation will undoubtedly be to direct still greater attention to the opportunities which the Dominion affords for settlers, not only from the Scandinavian countries and the United States, but from other lands as well.

Paying Twice For Nothing

Heligoland Was Not a Profitable Investment For Germany

Heligoland has been stripped of its armament. A former British Government was long and harshly criticized for trading that rock pile for a strip of resourceful country in tropical Africa; the claim being that Germany was converting the islet into a fortification dangerously close to the English shores. When war came the fortress was about as actually useful to Germany as a shore battery at the mouth of the Elbe. It made an attack on the German coast difficult, but did not materially help to make an attack on Britain easier. All that Fritz seems to have got for the privilege of piling $80,000,000 worth of armament on the rock was the privilege of paying to take it off again.—Edmonton Bulletin.

For Burns and Scalds.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will take the fire out of a burn or scald. It should be at hand in every kitchen so that it may be available at any time. There is no preparation required. Just apply the oil to the burn or scald and the pain will abate and in a short time cease altogether.

THANKFUL MOTHERS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little one she would use nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise and thankfulness for them. Among the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgow, N.S., who writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and from my experience I would not be without them. I would urge every other mother to keep a box of the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NERVES AND FAINTING SPELLS

Sent Woman to Bed. Great Change After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sarnia, Ontario.—"After my girlie was born I was a wreck. My nerves were too terrible for words and I simply could not stand or walk without pains. I suffered with fainting spells until I was no longer any good for my household duties and had to take to my bed. The doctor said I should have an operation, but I was not in a fit condition at that time. My neighbor said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' I am sure it will do you good and will save those doctor's bills." So I was advised by my husband to try it after I told him about it. I am very thankful to say that I was soon able to take a few boarders for a while as rooms were scarce at that time. My baby is 17 months old now and I have not yet had an operation, thanks to your medicine. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to a few people I know and have told them the good it has done me. I know I feel and look a different woman these last few months and I certainly would not be without a bottle of your medicine in the house. You can use this letter as you see fit, as I should be only too glad for those suffering as I have to know what it has done for me."—Mrs. ROBERT G. MAC-GREGOR, R. R. No. 2, Sarnia, Ontario.

A recent canvass of women users of the Vegetable Compound report 98 out of 100 received beneficial results. This is a remarkable proof of its merit. C

THE NEW CHATEAU LAKE LOUISE

This new nine-storey hotel, occupying the ground space of an entire city block, was taken over from the contractors two weeks before its opening on June 1, by the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is the new Chateau Lake Louise, built last winter at a cost of two million dollars on the banks of the famous Lake Louise 6,500 feet up in the Canadian Rockies.

To equip this new hotel and stock it with food for guest occupancy on June 1, 800 beds, 390 bureau, 780 chairs, 390 pieces of upholstery, 390 desks for rooms, with sheets and pillow cases, box bed springs and other equipment to match, had to be transported three and a half miles up a narrow gauge mountain railway. The perishable food which had to be stocked in the hotel the day before its opening, included 11,000 pounds of turkey, 8,000 pounds of roasting fowl, 18 whole lamb, 12 whole hogs, 1,000 pounds of new cabbage, 40 cases of grapefruit and 20 cases of fresh spinach. Approximately 7,000 eggs had to be rushed from the C.P.R. farms at Strathcona, Alberta, and placed in refrigeration.

Of the non-perishable foodstuffs, five tons of potatoes, 300 sacks of flour, 20 tons of sugar, 3,000 pounds of butter, a ton of tea and a thousand pounds of fresh coffee had to be placed in the larders.

All told, a special train of eight cars carrying 350 tons of foodstuffs was required to open this remarkable edifice. And all of this had to be rushed in at the last moment; for the opening banquet at the hotel seated the full capacity of the new dining rooms of 500 persons.

A staff of 425 men and women, including three managers, had to be on hand a week before its opening. These employees have a building to themselves equipped with rooms with bath, hot and cold running water, a rotunda and a ballroom.

The new Chateau Lake Louise has 400 rooms with bath, all outside rooms, 210 of them, with southern exposure facing the famous lake.

Besides telegraph and cable offices in the rotunda, each bedroom contains a phone which can be connected with long distance.

A resident doctor and trained nurse will have offices in this building to look after the health of its guests; and a special dining room has been built for the maids, nurses and younger children of the guests.

Chateau Lake Louise is now said to be the largest and most modern equipped chateau in the world.

Wheat Outlook In U. S.

Large Percentage of Winter Wheat Acreage Has Been Abandoned

If wheat goes to a fancy price next fall, American farmers will not be the principal beneficiaries. The crop in this country does not promise very well according to a government report, says the Buffalo Express. More than half the winter wheat acreage was abandoned in Washington, Montana, Oregon, New Mexico and Texas, and nearly a quarter of the acreage in the entire country. Estimates as to spring wheat acreage are not yet accurate, but the guess is that it will not be above the average as to either quantity or quality.

Canada is reported to have planted an acreage fully as large as last year, with soil conditions and moisture excellent. Prospects in other countries are good, also, it is said. This country may not have much exportable surplus wheat this year. That will mean a benefit to other producing countries. If the price, as is expected, remains high.

Canada and New Zealand

Some idea of Canada's trade with New Zealand can be gathered from the fact that exports from Canada during the month of February, 1925, amounted to $1,632,577, of which amount $428,550 was made up of agricultural and vegetable products, while wood, wood products and paper amounted to $172,343. The greatest amount was furnished by iron and iron products, exports of which in the month of February amounted to $872,743.

Factor That Will Likely Hold Prices Up For Some Time

Blue ruin gentlemen, who do not like to see the farmers happy, tell them that high wheat prices cannot last because those prices are supported solely by speculation.

They say that the bottom may drop out of the wheat market any day that some gambling ring wants it to drop.

The farmers should not worry too much about it. There is one factor that will probably hold wheat prices up for years.

Normally, Russia produces one billion bushels of wheat. For the past few years Russian wheat has not been a factor in world markets. Nor will it be a factor for years to come.—Vancouver Sun.

REVIEW—IN JUDEA AND SAMARIA

Golden Text: Ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth. Acts 1:8.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 98.

The early church started into existence.—The last time that the disciples talked with Jesus, just before His ascension, He said unto them, "Ye shall be my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in Judea and Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth." The lessons of this quarter have shown how these disciples bore their witness to him in Jerusalem, Judea and Samaria.

The apostles, the leaders of the disciples, had had no thought of launching a new movement—the early church, as we call it. They had no organization, no programme. They were terribly startled by the Lord's death and resurrection and ascension. At Jerusalem, as He had bade, they waited, spending the time in prayer. The Day of Pentecost came, and suddenly the cowardice of these men dissolved in courage, their hopelessness in confidence, their powerlessness in power.

On that great day, as Jesus Christ had promised, the Spirit came to the waiting group with wonderful dynamic force, thrilling their almost being with a new energy and zeal. It was a time of great emotional excitement; they spoke in ecstatic words which conveyed their meaning to all who heard. So carried away with joy were they that outsiders who hastened to the scene even accused them of being drunk. Their wills and hearts were possessed and used by the Holy Spirit.

NEARING A BREAKDOWN

A Condition That Calls For a Reliable Tonic

Many women give so much of their time to the cares of their household that they neglect their own health and sometimes reach the verge of a breakdown before they realize that their health is shattered. After the heart palpitates violently at slight exertion, the stomach fails to digest food and discomfort follows. The nerves become weak and headaches grow more frequent. The body grows weak and they are always depressed. This condition requires immediate treatment with such a reliable tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which enrich and build up the blood, carrying renewed energy to every part of the body. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a rundown condition is proved by the following statement from Mrs. Alex. McInnes, Bowman River, Man., who says:—"About a year ago I had a serious illness which left me very anemic. I was not able to get around to do my work; in fact I could scarcely walk. I was troubled with palpitation of the heart with the least exertion. One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they had done her much good. I followed this advice and took the pills for some week when I felt as well as ever. I have since been able to attend to all my household duties. The dizziness and palpitation have left me and I bless the day I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are just the medicine for those who are weak and rundown."

You can get these pills from any dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AROUND THE TOWN

Mrs. Cole of Salmon Arm is paying a visit this week to her Noble.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Coates leave this week in a new Nash car for Chicago.

Birth—On Wednesday, June 10, Mrs. Jackson of Neapolis of a daughter.

Mrs. E. Rodney, accompanied by her two sons, left on Sunday by auto for Pacific coast points.

Dr. Reid, formerly of Didsbury, now in charge of the Keith Sanatorium, Calgary, spent a few days here this week.

Mrs. MacNutt underwent an operation Tuesday morning for the removal of her tonsils, the service being rendered by Dr. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Simon and daughter motored from Salem, Ore., and are visiting friends and relatives in the district.

A letter this week from Hatzic, B.C., states the berry crop this year is bound to be a light one. The logans were largely destroyed by frost and the raspberries will not be more than half a crop.

Mrs. W. C. Liphardt and family arrived from Calgary recently to take up their permanent residence here. They are now occupying temporarily rooms at Mr. Liphardt's store previous to taking over a house.

The annual picnic of the Burnside U.F.A. will be held on Tuesday, June 30th, at the site of the new hall. Dinner will be served at noon. A full program of sports has been arranged, including four ball games, the first one taking place at eleven o'clock.

N. B. Snyder, living north-east, was a visitor in town on Thursday last, and reports crop conditions in his district being better than for years past. He himself has a crop of Ruby wheat which a week ago measured about eighteen inches high.

N. Swalm, farming east of town, brought into the office of the Pioneer on Wednesday a sample of his Ruby wheat, measuring forty-two inches in length. This was seeded on April 7th and pulled June 24th, a little over ten weeks' growth. It is now past the shot-blade and has a head of four inches.

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram," a farce comedy, was presented by the Harmattan players in the Didsbury Opera House on Monday night. The attendance was not all that could be desired, the storm undoubtedly preventing many of the country residents from coming in. Undaunted, however, by this factor the various artists executed their respective parts with considerable ability, and their efforts were well applauded.

A very interesting event took place on Thursday last, when the members of the Young People's Society of the Evangelical church presented W. A. Miller and Miss V. Hehn with a handsome set of Communion plate. The gift was presented jointly by Dewey Rood and H. Brubacher, the balance of the evening being devoted to a most enjoyable social.

The Business Girls' Club had a most enjoyable outing on Sunday at Fallen Timber, the members spending the time very pleasantly in various ways. Cake, lemonade and other good things were partaken at a convenient time and ample justice was done to everything provided.

Prepare for Didsbury's exhibition August 4-5.
